Market update:

Gold hits a new high due to better than expected data out of China plus Friday's tame US Core PCE reading. This morning US futures were up nearly 50 bps but have turned flat as the ten year interest rate is up 1.28%. JOLTS and the ISM numbers will be in focus this week. I think no matter how you look at it valuations of US. large cap stocks are stretched. However, the current momentum is so great that the rally will most likely continue in the near term. In the longer term, relatively short dated fixed income and US small caps are set to be the biggest beneficiaries of an easing monetary policy cycle from the fed.
